A few pointers to be kept in mind:

- Study everyday in shifts of 3.5 hours each. It is highly recommended to have at least 2 such shifts in a day.
- Revision Round 1 is all about strengthening everything you have read till now into your memory.
- Revision Round 2 is all about building confidence. So it is best to cover 100% in limited time.
- Revision Round 3 is all about becoming exam ready. So crease out all the weak areas, glance over all the forgotten theory portions and practice all the tough questions again.
- Quality of studies is more important than the time for which you study.
 So the focus has to be on utilizing each and every second productively and effectively.
- Make it a point to sit for Mock Tests and solving Past Papers in exam conditions, from 13:45 to 1700 hrs. This will only help you to be in the flow for the exams.
